

Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you to all of the parents and carers who have kindly donated unwanted Tupperware, jam jars, and empty chocolate selection boxes to our Technology Department, in response to our advert before Christmas. The staff are very grateful for this continued support, as these resources directly support the work within the department and assist the students. The jam jars (or similar!) are used by our Year 9 students for their sweet dispenser project, and the Tupperware and empty selection boxes are extremely useful to loan to our students to help them get their Food Technology projects home safely! If you would like to donate any of these items, please drop them off at reception marked for the attention of Ms Chate.

We were thrilled with the enthusiasm and participation of Year 9 students for their Options Taster Day last Thursday. The students enjoyed trying out new subjects such as Psychology, Product Design and Health and Social Care. You can access the full Options Booklet and further information via the link here: <https://www.coxgreen.com/index.php/year-9-options-process>. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us via email at options@coxgreen.com.

We recently sent an additional letter regarding the sQuid withdrawal process and transition to the new system iPay. Please take a moment to review the letter (link below) for the important updates.

Best wishes
Mr Edwards, Headteacher

YOUNGMINDS

We all know that exams are extremely challenging, not only because of what we have to learn, but also because they can affect our mental health. We're told to take regular breaks, but some find it hard to know how best to use them. Exam pressure is a rich topic for which there is plenty of advice. However, much of this advice focuses on study techniques to memorise exam topics. The reality is that much of the most vital revision is executed when one is not revising. Sometimes this aspect of revision can be more important than the active element. If interested in finding some top tier self-care tips to share with your child, please follow the link below:

Club of the Week

Wednesdays, 3pm - 4pm
Mr Bali

Eton Debating Club

This week, Eton College debaters set the Cox Green students the following motion to prepare: "This house would pay politicians the median wage of the country they are living in." The entire session was spent on preparation, as the debate proper will take place next Monday in the Debating Chamber at Eton College. Students split into teams of two according to British Parliamentary debating style, so there were two teams for Government (Proposition) and two teams for Opposition. The final speaker on each side will have to "weigh" the arguments that have been put forward by all teams to show why their team is the best. This final speaker is called the "whip". All debaters are honing their skills of argument, rebuttal and also asking points of information. It was a thoroughly enjoyable session which showed why research and planning always makes arguments stronger and more persuasive. We look forward to the final debate next week!
